Richmond at Lynchburg. Norfolk at Portsmouth

inning this afternoon gave them two runs and the game, the score being 2 to 0. Up to that time the battle wa as pretty a one from the mound as Lucia and Brandon each poked hot grounders by Landgraff for scratch hits, after one man was down. Hoff-man smacked his chance on the ground man smacked his chance on the ground over the third sack, the ball being slow enough for Lucia to score from second, and Brandon went to third and Hoffman to second on the throw-in. Levy's long fly to Wallace easily scored Brandon, for the throw was short.

The Colts did not have a look into the game, for only one of them reached third base, the other two men trying for that corner being thrown out, one of them from the plate and the other being doubled from first base.

Both teams played good ball, but there were no especial features other than the work of the pichers.

The weather was cold, with a raw wind blowing, and the crowd was very small in consequence of these conditions. The score:

Lynchurg.

BROADWAY'S GREATEST RIVAL

Fifth Avenue, on Which Is Located the Hotel St. Regis.

Broadway has a rival. This famous thoroughfare, known all over the world as the pivotal point of the American metropolis, is losing its pre-eminence. Fifth Avenue is supplanting it as a business, traffic and goolal centre. Only a few years have passed since Fifth Avenue was restricted to private residences. But to-day all this is changed. There are now few private houses on Fifth Avenue below Fortyseventh Street, and none below Thirtyfourth. In the "Fifties," however, the residential character remains, except as it has been invaded by some of the more prominent clubs and a very few of the most progressive hotels. One of the latter—most appropriately located of the most progressive hotels. One of the latter—most appropriately located because of its distinct home-likeness—is the Hotel St. Regis, at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth Street, a hotel built to be the very best possible and catering to a class of patronage that can be satisfied with nothing less than the superlative. The St. Regis contains every approved feature of the modern hotel. In design it is without a fault; in furnishings exquisite; in operation

Some Baseball Talk

By HALF NELSON.

Because Richmond lost a game and showed up badly in another game by rank base running, the word has gone forth that the players are not being properly disciplined by Tommy Messitt and have got slightly beyond him. This word says further that the players are playing for individual record, instead of working as a team. The word may be true, but it will be remembered the bonehead base running was a feature of several games before Messitt took charge of the team, and most just criticism came to meet it.

rather well in Lynchburg yesterday, even if he did lose, and the other pitchers are strong. The field cannot be changed, the infield is as tight as a drum, and Richmond has got to have two catchers. Therefore, the question "Who?"

Martin Walsh put up a most typical performance in Norfolk Monday morn, ing whon he allowed but two hits and gave eleven bases on balls. With the hop-skip-and-jump delivery, Walsh needs a good big pitcher's box, but when he does put them over there are

It is undoubtedly true that there has been base running of the school boy type among the Colts, and opportunities galore have been thrown to the winds. Pitchers have caught the Colts off every bag when there seemed to be a certain score. Again, the Colts have driven for a bag when there was no chance in the world to make the station, and have been ignominiously thrown out.

The question is, however, whether or not the coachers have not been at fault. If they would pay less attention to whooping up the yelling and talking to the pitcher and umpire they would have more time to see what the base runner was doing, and if the base runner was doing, and if the base runner is on the job he will get the cue. It is all right to whoop things up from the coaching line, but the real object of the coacher is to tell the base runner all the points of the game that he has overlooked.

When he does put them over there are few who can connect with them.

A frenzied fan, who incidentally does not sign his name, has written that the business men of Danville desire nothing more heartily than to be a certain score. Again, the Colts have Joe Lawling that the business men of Danville desire nothing more heartily than to be a certain score. Again, the Colts have Joe Lawling that the business men of Danville desire nothing more heartily than to to be the suspension of Hooker and I hanks by Manager Griffin.

It may be that the frenzied fan is I may be that the frenzied

Somebody has got to go on Thursday, however, and it is hard to say who it will be. Salve, who was to drive with a tight rein, however, boomed for the blue envelope, held up and with that he should make good.

Philadelphia and Boston Americans Each Take One Game.

FIRST IS PITCHERS' BATTLE

By Winning in Afternoon Visitors Get Series, Three to Two.

Boston, May 31 .- Philadelphia took Boston, May 31.—Philadelphia took the series, three games to two, getting an even break to-day, by winning the second game of a double-header, 4 to 2, after Boston had been victorious in the first game, 1 to 0. The first game, a pitchers' battle between Morgan and Collins, terminated when Barry made a wild throw to first, letting in a run. Errors by Gardner and Lewis were responsible for all of the visitors' runs in the second contest, while Stable runs in the second contest, while Stahl scored both of Boston's runs. Thomas had his thumb broken, being the fourth Philadelphia player to be injured in the series here. The others were Baker, Oldring and Murphy. The score:

Cars Get Away Next Tuesday Morning for Jour-Day Trip-Sixteen Women Will Accompany Party-Pleasant Outing Has Been Arranged.

Party—Pleasant Outing Has Been Arranged.

Entries close to-night at midnight for the North Carolina Endurance Run, which leaves next Tuesday morning for a four-day trip to Emporia, Littleton, Raleigh, Durham, Oxford and Clarksville. Those proposing to enter cars should be certain that their blanks are properly filled out, with the name of the driver, the assistant driver, if the contestant cares to have one, and the observer. Sixteen women will accompany the party. The complete list of those entering cars will be announced to-morrow, and after the lists are closed those wishing to make the trip can only trail behind as spectators, without being eligible for any of the cups or prizes.

Carefully planned and mapped out for any of the cups or prizes.

Carefully planned and mapped out in every detail, the run should prove an easy one for all parties entering, the average not exceeding 100 miles a day for the four days out, giving ample time for rest and recreation at the controls and night stops. The entire run is just about 400 miles to

Four Pitchers Worked-Tars Defeat Truckers, 9

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., May 31.—Norfolk and Portsmouth to day indulged in melodramatic farce comedy for nine innings, in which four pitchers were used, the bjats cracked victously, and the Tars came out on top by the score of 3 to 6.
McCarthy, a Norfolk cast-off, began twirling for the Truckers, but his red fire engine came in the third, when five runs were gotten off his delivery. five runs were gotten off his delivery. Welcher, ordered to the front, was also hit freely and poorly supported. Long John Fox, for the Tars, lasted until the seventh, when Skipper Clark hoisted him to the bench, sending in Carl Walker, who held things safe to a seath.

Carl Walker, who held things safe to a finish.

Little can be said in favor of the game. It was slow, the errors wearlsome, as well as often laughable. The runs of the Truckers, even, came on errors.

The redeeming feature was the batting of the Tars. Tiedeman and Jackton son led in this, with a triple and two son led in this, w
